

THE SPELL SWORD

I proved myself worthy to be taught an ancient martial art. I seek to hone my abilities and use it to protect the people from the Monsters that seek destruction.

LIFE BEFORE...

- ☐ I lived a normal life until I lost someone important to me to a Monster.
- ☐ I was oblivious to the threats that existed in the world until I experienced them first hand. Once I had, I sought out my mentor to help beat them back.
- ☐ I was a merchant assigned to deliver strange goods to the one who would become my mentor.
- ☐ I was an aspiring Monster hunter who aimed to become stronger.
- ☐ _____

LIFE NOW...

- ☐ I have proven to my mentor I'm ready for combat and will make them proud.
- ☐ I lost my mentor to a Monster one fateful night. I seek vengeance.
- ☐ I had a falling out with my mentor and am following my own path.
- ☐ I woke one night to find my mentor was missing. I now take my talents and seek to find them.
- ☐ _____

STARTING MOVE

- ☐ Elemental Stance Training: Over years of vigorous and extreme training you have learned an exclusive and rare combat style that combines both Swordplay and the Arcane arts, allowing you to land devastating strikes and carry the elements with your Weapon. +1 Harm to all Attacks you deal with a blade and +1 Ongoing on Attacks towards Targets who are also wielding a bladed Weapon. Spell Swords also have special Sword Stances that alter their approach in combat; they may activate one stance per turn as a Free Action, but if they want to switch stances again it becomes a Quick Action. While in any of your Stances (with the exception of Silver Stance), you may use Arcane instead of Strength for Melee Attacks.

Quirk: Your mentor is renowned for the development of, refinement of, or dedication to, their particular Stance. They gave you an article of clothing to represent their tutelage; other Spell Blades will recognize your mentor's mark, for better or for worse.

SWORD STANCES

- ☒ Silver Stance: You focus your breathing and firmly place your feet on the ground, locking your grip on the hilt of your blade, focusing all your attention on the action of the fight. Your sword strikes will deal +1 Harm and +1 Forward on Melee Attacks; in addition add the Pierce Tag to each Attack.
- ☐ Ocean Stance: You take a more delicate but flexible position; you and your blade move like water through the riverbed. You may Move Into Position or Out of Position as a Quick Action, and your Attacks gain the Water Tag. If you are In Position while in this stance, gain the Accurate Tag.
- ☐ Sky Stance: You release all the tension and internal fatigue you carry and make your mind and body light as air. Add the Wind Tag to any attacks and gain +1 Evasion. Additionally, you gain Immunity to the Precise/Accurate Tag, and may leap/jump greater distances as a regular Task. Additionally you may Move Out of Position before Attack Backs as a Reaction.
- ☐ Sun Stance: You take a fierce and intimidating stance with your feet planted firmly on the ground. You gain +3 Harm to attacks and your Attacks gain the Fire Tag while in this stance.
- ☐ Moon Stance: You place your left foot firmly on the ground while pressing your right foot on top of it. You shut your eyes and channel the Arcane energy into your blade. Your Weapon gains the Tags Magic and Far, and your Attacks deal +1 Harm.
- ☐ Lightning Stance: You relax your conscious mind, relying entirely on your reflexes. While in this stance add the Lightning Tag to any Attacks. Additionally, you cannot be affected by or use Influence/Wits based actions; this means you cannot communicate, talk, or plan with your allies but gain Immunity to mental Status Effects. Also gain +1 Quick Action & +1 Reaction per turn.
- ☐ Earth Stance: You plant and twist your feet into the earth around you, holding your ground. While in this stance, add the Earth and Loud Tag to your Attacks. Additionally, gain +2 Harm Reduction and Immunity to Stagger, Prone, and Slow.

BASIC MOVES (Start with Tight Breathing, then pick 2)

[X] Tight Breathing: Your training heavily emphasized disciplined, precise control of your breathing. Tight Breathing automatically activates at the start of combat; your heightened concentration and immaculate form grant you +1 Ongoing, and your Attacks gain +1 Harm. Whenever you receive Harm, you lose these benefits until the beginning of your next turn, or until you spend a Quick Action to catch your breath.

[] Concentrated Strike: You have honed your sword arm with such precision that, given time to focus and prepare, you can slice remarkably large or hard objects in half. When in combat this takes an Action to prepare, and another to strike. Roll for the Attack as normal. On a roll of:

- 8 - 10, the object is split but isn't a clean cut or +1 Die to Harm.
- 11+, the object is split perfectly in half or add Puncture & +1 Die to Harm.
- On a miss you fail to cut the object or perform a regular Attack.

You cannot hold onto this Action if it is prepared it must be used before other Actions can be performed.

[] Sparring Training: The rigorous sparring training you underwent has given you the edge in a duel. While Sparring Training is active, the caster cannot move from their position; if they are moved for any reason the ability is disabled. When Sparring Training is active the Spell Sword gains +2 Harm Reduction and sets their Evasion to 0. The Spell Sword now will get an indefinite amount of Attack-Backs with +1 Forward, and will Stagger targets upon dealing damage.

[] Dancing Blade: Outside of your Sword Stances, you have learned a technique that helps you hold your own in crowds. Spend a Quick Action to prepare this ability. You can then spend a Main Action to either perform a Melee attack with the Line or Area Tag. If using Line then extend your Melee Attack up to Close range. If you choose Area, extend your Melee Attack up to Reach range. This Move will utilize any Elements or Tags from your Stances.

[] Disciplined: You have mastered the art of discipline and know how to follow instructions to a tee. You can choose to let any Order Task on you instantly succeed. You gain +1 Ongoing whenever you are following orders. When Ordered, gain resistance to Mental Statuses and Psychic Harm.

[] Hillside Training: Your Mentor made you spend countless tiresome nights out in the mountains, honing your instincts to navigate and react to the unexpected in a fight. Gain +1 forward on Traverse and Finesse Tasks. Get +2 on any Tasks that are reacting to Environmental Dangers.

[] Humble Student: Your years of dedicated training have given you both a hunger for knowledge and a respect for those who would teach their craft. You may now ask a member of the Common folk to train you in their given profession or in a niche skill they possess (for example cutting wood, painting, scavenging, etc). After you have spent enough time training to master their art you will get +1 Ongoing when performing that task; additionally, you get +1 Influence when speaking to your mentor, and they are more likely to assist you in the future and you can use their residences as Base Camp.

ADVANCED MOVES

[] Stance Mastery: You have become extremely proficient in one of the 7 core Stances, increasing your capabilities. Gain a unique ability that can only be used while in one of your Stances. Discuss with the GM the abilities of this stance.

[] Stance Proficiency: You have become exceptionally proficient in managing your stances, and are now able to proficiently perform two at the same time. Increase your maximum Stance limit by 1.

[] Hone The Blade: You have become so extremely proficient in your Stance training that you're ready to go to the next level. Perfect your master's unique style or create one of your own. Discuss the abilities you gain with your GM.

NOTES

HUNTER RELATIONS

This is a list of ways you might know other Hunters (Players) before your adventures. As a group choose 1 Hunter to start, and give everyone a turn to discuss with that Hunter how they know each other. Here is a list of Suggestions:

- They are related to you. Discuss the relationship and ask/tell them who started hunting first.
- They took you in as a pupil, and now act as your mentor. Discuss how this came to be .
- You have taken on the role as a mentor for them. Discuss what your method of study is like.
- They were saved by you when encountering a Monster, Ask/tell them what happened.
- They are an old friend of your mentor. Discuss the relationship.
- They showed you a new way to improve your Stance training.
- They are your lover and your love was tested by a tragedy with a Monster. Ask/tell them this tragedy.
- They had once challenged you to a duel. Discuss who won and why it occurred.
